Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kalampoukas et al (USP 5,675,576).

Regarding claims 1, 2 and 4 Kalampoukas discloses a method of providing feedback about a contention point to a source of a multicast connection (abstract, Fig. 2, each switch provides a contention point for a multicast connection), the method comprising: identifying a slowest stream of the multicast connection at the contention point (col 2 lines 45-57, col 5 lines 35-58, bottleneck link would represent the slowest link within a multicast connection);

executing an explicit rate (ER) calculation only with respect to accounting characteristics of the slowest stream at the contention point (col 2 lines 45-50, col 7 lines 30-47, ER calculations are done using the RM cells);

transmitting a result of the slowest stream ER calculation back to the source (col 7 lines 47-63, bottleneck value is sent back to source via the RM cell); and controlling a data transmission rate of said source of said multicast connection using said slowest stream ER calculation (col 7 lines 30-63, RM cells provide the bandwidth requests for each connection.).

Regarding claim 3, Kalampoukas discloses a contention point includes a memory buffer (Figs. 3 & 4 show a buffered switch, col 6 lines 34-45) for storing cells received from the source in a temporally ordered linked list (col 5 lines 25-31); multicasting is effected by copying cells from the linked list to ports associated with the various multicast connection streams (col 4 line 58- col 5 line 2), and a read pointer is maintained for each stream to provide an index into the linked list; and said step of identifying the slowest stream includes identifying the read pointer associated with a temporally earliest cell in the linked list (Fig. 2, col 5 lines 50-63, col 7 lines 30-44, each RM cell has a VC identifier for each connection and thus an read pointer associated with a given cell).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Raj K. Jain whose telephone number is 571-272-3145. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 8-5.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Chi Pham can be reached on 571-272-3179. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
